

Library & Learning Resources

MyiLibrary Fact Sheet

What does it cover?

Subjects include:

Education, Fine Arts, Anthropology, Language and Literature, Law, Medicine and Health, Nursing & Midwifery, Music and Books on Music, Political Science, I.T. and Technology

MyiLibrary is an eBook collection covering Nursing, Midwifery, Law, Art, and Music along with other subjects. The MyiLibrary eBook collection contains full text, these eBook titles can also be found when searching the Library's Catalogue from where you will be provided with a direct link to the title or database if off campus. This database is also available to use both on and off campus via the Electronic Services A – Z of Electronic Services from the Library Homepage.

Some of the features...

Full Text Searching - You can search the full text of all content by keyword, author, ISBN, publisher, publication date, subject or category.

Save notes or searches by signing up for an account using the link on the welcome page.

Bookmark individual pages or chapters with your own notes.

Save and retrieve previous searches for use at a later date.

Subject to individual publisher restrictions text and images can be copied from titles into Microsoft Word, Excel and PowerPoint.

EBook titles can also be found when searching the Library catalogue.

A few of the many titles...

CARROLL, L. (2007). Acute Medicine: A Handbook for Nurse Practitioners. London: Wiley.

PEATE, I. (2006). Becoming a Nurse in the 21st Century. London: Wiley.

CARROLL, A. (2007). Constitutional and Administrative Law. London: Pearson Education.

JEFFERSON, M. (2006) Criminal Law. The Foundation Studies Law Series. Edinburgh: Pearson Education.

NEGUS, K. (1999). Music Genres and Corporate Cultures. London: Taylor & Francis.

SHERMAN, B.D. (2003). Inside Early Music. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

CORBY, B. (2006). Applying Research in Social Work Practice. Milton Keynes: Open University Press.

KELLY, J et. Al. (2002). Best Value in Construction. Oxford: Blackwell Publishing.

HOPKINS, D. (2000). After Modern Art 1945-2000. Oxford History of Art. Oxford: Oxford University Press.

KENNEDY, L. (2004). Remaking Birmingham. The Visual Culture of Urban Regeneration. London: Taylor & Francis.

Accessing this database...

Via the Library Catalogue

Enter your search terms. When an electronic version of a book exists you will see the  icon displayed and Link: Connect to e-book

Via the electronic Library

From the Library Homepage, go to the A-Z of Electronic Resources, select M and click on MyiLibrary. Select On campus or Off-campus. At the Athens Login page, click on 'Go to the Birmingham City University login page'. You will require your Athens username and password (see box on left).

You will then be taken through to the Birmingham City University MyiLibrary tailored eContent resource library page where you will be able to access those e-Book titles the University has purchased.

Searching...

From the main MyiLibrary welcome page you can select eBooks from the alphabetical list, or go to all books to view all listed within MyiLibrary. You can also browse eBook titles from the individual publishers list. Selecting 'my content' text takes you back to the search page.

For a quick search enter search terms in the quick search content box, you can select a drop-down field to search full text, keyword, title, ISBN or author. If you want to search for an exact phrase, use quotation marks e.g. "quality of life". The advanced search option provides for more complex searches which can be developed using the different search fields.

To read an eBook, click on the title or 'open now' text. The eBook will open in a new window; you can continue to search within the eBook by selecting the search tab. There is also the option to select the table of contents, notes or bookmarks tabs and use the online dictionary.

For more detailed information about searching for eBooks, refer to Library and Learning Resources' MyiLibrary Guide

Saving or exporting your results...

You can print, save or email individual pages. If you sign up for an account with MyiLibrary you can save selected records to a personal account and create notes/bookmarks.

Help...

Use the free online dictionaries to help find a definition of any word. View the Harvard or APA citation for each title. Click on Help within the database to get assistance from MyiLibrary. If you need further support with this database please ask at the Library Enquiry desks for further information. We'll be pleased to help.